

Summary of the 2007-2008 Annual Progress Report on Assessment of Student Learning

The Interior Design program faculty continually assess student learning outcomes for the Council for Interior Design Accreditation (CIDA) and National Association of Schools of Art and Design (NASAD) accreditation standards. This report summarizes the efforts in the 2007-2008 academic year to assess student learning in the studio courses and through the exit interview with graduating students.